Research Methods Index (RMI)
Participation consent

Dear Participant

You are invited to use the Research Methods Index[™] application because of your interest in research. By evaluating your responses to a series of questions, the Research Methods Index[™] or RMI[™] application will recommend a research philosophy and paradigm that informs the way in which you can conduct research. A report with three topmost recommended research philosophies and the underlying paradigms that are closely aligned with your world view will be generated. You are most welcome to save and research them further for yourself – it should be an interesting discovery.

As a participant, in signing this form;

- I voluntarily agree to participate in this research study.
- I understand that all information I provide for RMI[™] will be treated confidentially.

The University of South Africa (UNISA) complies with the relevant data protection legislation and as such will ensure that;

- Your responses and personal details will not be divulged to anyone else.
- The data will be kept and used only for academic purposes; such as the writing of an article for publication in an academic journal.

- No source, individual or institution, will be identified or comment attributed without written permission of the originator and you may withdraw at any time without consequence of any kind.

Do you consent to take part in this study? Please cross or tick one of the following:
